

Alpine Delphiniums produce tall spikes of blue, purple, or white flowers. These perennial plants can reach 1-2 meters in height. They bloom in early to mid-summer and prefer full sun. Delphiniums need rich, well-drained soil and protection from strong winds. The flowers are toxic if ingested but make excellent cut flowers.