

The Early Purple Orchid is a stunning wildflower found across Europe. It produces spikes of purple flowers with distinctive spotted leaves in spring. This terrestrial orchid grows 20-60 cm tall in grasslands and woodlands. The flowers have a faint honey-like scent and are pollinated by bees. Conservation efforts are important for this beautiful species.